

GCSE/Level 2 Exam Results Summer 2025

Student Guidance on Post-Results Services

This guidance outlines your options and the process to follow if you are considering:

1. Requesting a copy of your examination script
2. Requesting a review of the marks awarded for an examination

Important Considerations Before Requesting a Review of Marks

If you are disappointed with an examination result and are thinking about requesting a review, please take the following into account:

- Reflect on your predicted grades, PPE (mock) results, teacher assessments, and the advice you received about your likely performance.
- If your result is significantly different from what you reasonably expected, it may be worth considering a review.
- Exam boards do not re-mark papers. Instead, they check whether the original examiner correctly applied the mark scheme.
- Professional judgment differences will not lead to a change in marks unless the marking is considered outside acceptable tolerance.
- Your mark may go down as a result of the review. This could lead to a lower overall grade.
- Reviews are charged per unit/paper, not per subject. Please see costs below.
- Grade changes are rare due to the quality assurance processes already in place during initial marking.
- The final deadline for requesting reviews is Thursday 19th September 2025. No late requests can be accepted.

Note: These services apply only to written exam papers. Coursework and practical assessments are excluded, as they have already been internally assessed and externally moderated.
